

Rochelle Kilberg

“Building Sound Fundamentals for Equestrians”

Rochelle has been riding since the age of 10. At an early age she began participating in the local 4-H and pony club. In 1994 Rochelle achieved her equestrian coaching certification.

Rochelle trains and teaches her students from her farm “Hazelmere Equestrian Center”, located in South Surrey, British Columbia. Rochelle happily teaches all levels of dressage. She is an active member in the Canadian Equestrian community volunteering and hosting a local pony club branch, as well the elite rider representative for the High Performance Committee of Dressage Canada.

Rochelle trains on a regular basis with Olympian Leslie Reid. Rochelle is frequently invited to participate in clinics of top European riders and trainers. She has also been influenced by following top trainers, Olympian Ellen Bontje, Bert Rutten, Dederik Wigman, Dietrich Von Hopffgarten, Albrecht Hiedemann and Gunter Theide.

As a skillful equestrian, Rochelle has been, and continues to be a strong presence in the competition arena winning many awards. Some of her riding accomplishments include the following:
